

THE QUESTION GAME

(10 minutes)

WHY: An opportunity to work together and build competitive energy within the group.

How to complete:

- Explain that this activity is called 'The Question Game' and that the aim is to be the last person standing.
- Start the activity by one person asking a question to the person on their right (e.g. Do you like dogs?).
- The person who is asked the question, then needs to turn to the person on their right and ask a question which roughly relates to the question asked of them (e.g. Do you like walking dogs on the beach?).
- The person who is asked this question, then turns to the person on their right and repeats the process such as (e.g. Do you like surfing at the beach?).
- This continues until people are eliminated and you are left with one person standing.
- The ways to be eliminated are:
 - If you don't respond quickly enough.
 - If you answer the question instead of asking another question.
 - If your question does not roughly relate the question asked of you (e.g. Do you like dogs? could not become "Do you look forward to Christmas?" as there is no obvious link.).
- Ask the group to stand up and form a circle and begin.

WHERE: Tribal room – enough space for a circle
